

Our Outstanding Business Partner for May is the Cleveland Road Animal Hospital.

The Cleveland Road Animal Hospital is a full service, AAHA accredited animal hospital offering preventative medical services such as vaccines, dental cleanings, and spays/neuters, as well as offering emergency medicine, internal medicine, and surgical services. They provide outstanding preventative medicine for our patients as well as client education and communication. They offer the best medical and surgical services and techniques available based on our stringent AAHA guidelines and are continually educating themselves with new and upcoming therapies.

Doctors Chad and Stephanie Bailey, both owners and Veterinarians at The Cleveland Road Animal Hospital have been actively involved with the Animal Science Program for many years now. They have been very helpful in forming our program and assisting with our externship program for our seniors. The students have learned the ins and outs of a veterinary clinic and how an established business runs its daily operations. They have been active members of our advisory committee and assist in giving us helpful feedback for our program. They have graciously donated items such as an anesthetic monitoring machine for the students to practice with and learn about. Chad and Stephanie run an outstanding business and their outreach to our program and school has been greatly appreciated.

Congratulations and thank you for your outstanding and continued support.
