A message from OSBA on civil rights and George Floyd

COLUMBUS — The Ohio School Boards Association is deeply saddened and outraged at the deaths of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery and others who have tragically lost their lives to systemic racism over the years. We join with others in expressing our sympathy and support to their families and friends. We add our voice to all who have expressed the need for change and the willingness to take appropriate steps toward such change.

There is no place for racism and hatred in our society. Strong public schools are the great equalizer and education provides the foundation to change perceptions and attitudes. We must go beyond words to implement meaningful solutions that eliminate racism, social injustice and bias and foster equity to provide the catalyst for sustained, systemic change.

OSBA remains committed to moving beyond discussion. Diversity and inclusion are core values of this association and represent an integral part of our mission, vision and goals. OSBA is also committed to equipping school boards with the tools they need to provide students of all backgrounds and abilities with a high-quality education. We will listen intently to those seeking to be heard to create an inclusive environment that ensures that our students have a future that allows all to be successful, no matter their race, ethnicity or background.

Together with our 712 member districts, we look forward to implementing meaningful solutions that provide equality for all.

Founded in 1955, OSBA leads the way to educational excellence by serving Ohio's public school board members and the diverse districts they represent through superior service, unwavering advocacy and creative solutions.

A message from Denise Hall of the Buckeye Association of School Administrators (BASA):

As we plan for opening our schools this fall in whatever form that is best for our individual communities, let us consider all that our students, teachers, staff, and families have experienced as never before, from pandemics to social unrest. Public schools exemplify the conviction that every human deserves the right to be respected and given maximum opportunities to succeed in a safe, welcoming environment. As we have demonstrated so often as school leaders, there is no place for racism in our schools. Let us affirm our commitment to regard each person we serve as an individual, regardless of the color of their skin, and provide a learning environment and a workspace based on equity and truth. Let us continue to provide physically safe buildings and emotionally safe classrooms for everyone who walks through the door. When we provide a free and appropriate public education that regards every person's uniqueness and every person's contributions, we are laying the foundation for a healthy school district and entire school community.

WAYNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Ohio's Foremost Agricultural Fair

June 29, 2020

Over the past few years, the Wayne County Fair Board has been in the middle of a debate. One side asking us to ban the display and sale of the Confederate Flag and the other side asking for us to preserve the 1st Amendment Freedom of Speech.

In recent months the nation and our community has felt the stresses of racism and division. The Wayne County Fair Board would never condone such acts that would cause unrest and harm to others. The purpose of the Wayne County Fair is to bring our community together. We firmly believe that the protection of the 1st Amendment is vital to the future of our country and the beliefs that it was founded upon. After careful consideration of all aspects in regards to this topic that include safety and security as well as the patrons that are affected by our decisions, we believe that this is the time to support our community and especially those that protect and serve us. The Wayne County Fair Board has made the decision to not allow the sale of or the displaying of the Confederate Flag and or memorabilia and other related items by our vendors at the Wayne County Fair.
